

Bio:

Dr Robin Pitblado is one of DNV's leading risk analysts and is responsible for the SHE Risk Management technical activity globally. He graduated as a chemical engineer and he has 30 years experience in risk assessment activities covering safety management systems, quantitative risk assessment, and major accident investigation for the onshore process and offshore oil and gas industries. He currently participates in three industry Committees. He has been coauthor or editor of 4 books including a recent book titled on LNG Risk Based Safety.