Shows, by analysing accidents that have occurred, how we can learn from them, and prevent the same accidents happening again. Fully revised and updated, the third edition provides more information on accident investigation, including coverage of accidents involving liquefied gases, building collapse and other incidents that have occurred because faults were invisible (e.g. underground pipelines).

Process Plants
A Handbook for Inherently Safer Design
Second Edition

Taylor & Francis Inc.
£47.50
ISBN 1 56032 619 0

1998 224 pages hardback

IChemE members discount – 15%

The concept of the 'friendly' plants and plant design is the focus of this text. By designing friendlier plants, human error or equipment failure will not have the serious effects on safety, output or efficiency that older, less modern plants would have. In the second edition of this illustrated text, the guide has been enhanced to safe plant design, featuring increased coverage of design procedures.

Computer Control and Human Error

By Trevor Kletz, Paul Chung, Eamon Broomfield and Chaim Shen-Orr

IChemE
£30.00 ISBN 0 85295 362 3
1995 120 pages hardback

IChemE members discount – 25%

IChemE student members discount – 40%

Examines some of the unforeseen incidents which have occurred in computer-controlled process plants and suggests how such incidents can be made less likely.

By accident ... a life preventing them in industry

£14.95
ISBN 0953844005
2000 144 pages softback

Trevor Kletz is widely recognized as an outstanding communicator on safety in the process industries. His books, articles and presentations have taken his fame around the world. In this book he tells – in his inimitable prose – how this happened, and what challenges a young scientist or engineer starting out in industry might expect to find.

Dispelling chemical industry myths

Taylor & Francis Inc.
£42.50
ISBN 1 56032 438 4

1996 244 pages hardback

IChemE members discount – 15%

Trevor Kletz sheds light on nearly 100 statements of doubtful accuracy that are widely accepted among chemical engineers. The myths address technology, management, toxicology and the environment. Included in each myth is a description of why it is wrong.

Lessons From Disaster – How Organisations Have No Memory and Accidents Recur
